This program extends the knowledge of those who have completed the ACU Centre for Liturgy's online training program for Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHC). It enables those who minister Holy Communion to the sick and frail to gain the skills and confidence needed for this ministry.

The 4-week online program provides rich and engaging content in a supportive environment. The program is led by an experienced liturgy instructor and features many opportunities for collaboration with the local parish and related sponsoring organisations.

DEVELOP ESSENTIAL SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

Learn how to interact with the sick and vulnerable and become familiar with the different rites of the Church.

The skills and knowledge that are essential for lay ministers of the sick are explored through videos, readings, quizzes, audio, images, and reflection-based activities. Zoom classes and a practical session ensure that participants become confident and effective ministers in a variety of settings.

WORK WITH YOUR LOCAL COMMUNITY

Participants from parishes and

Church organisations are endorsed by their Pastor (or his delegate) prior to registering. Practical engagement with the local community, including hospitals and aged care residences, is a feature of the program.
