

ACU English Test – Melbourne and North Sydney

Information for Candidates

The ACU English test is an internal English test designed to determine whether a student's English level is sufficient to begin further studies at Australian Catholic University. The four skills of Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking are assessed.

- The ACU Test is only for students who already have a conditional offer to study at ACU (this does not apply to domestic applications).
- The ACU Test is not accepted for postgraduate Psychology courses, and Bachelor of Nursing and the associated double degrees. Please always refer to the latest ACU Handbook <https://www.acu.edu.au/handbook>
- The ACU English Test is not recognised by the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) for visa purposes.
- The ACU English Test cannot be used to gain re-entry to a course from which a student has been terminated. The test cannot be used by students who were unsuccessful in DEEAP or TPP programs.
